

Our world still have numerous less privileged people around. They can be seen in the big cities, towns and villages all around the globe. There are numerous humanitarian ventures in alleviating the suffering of the less privileged . For the past six year, Harambee4Africa projects group (H4A) is proud to be part of these ventures. No matter how little proceeds it gets from its fund raising events, H4A has is honoured with the opportunity to make a difference in the lives of the less privileged, particularly women and children in the grassroots communities in Africa.

H4A is striving to react to "life's most persistent and urgent question: What are you doing for others" (Martin Luther King). True to its name Harambee which means - "all together" - in Swahili, the leaders of H4A believe in their mission to encourage others within and outside the city, to join hands with them in their quest.

H4A seizes this opportunity to convey its sincere and profound appreciate to its loyal guests and sponsors that have supported its events over the years and H4A wishes all an amazing 2016 and trusts that it can continue to rely on the generosity of both existing and new supporters and sponsors to make a difference in the lives of the less privileged.

Read below a summary of achievements in 2015. A full report and financial breakdown will be available at its April 2016 event.

Our vision is to help the less privileged in our motherland

Our mission is to encourage members of the communities we currently live in to join hands with us to give back to our originating communities by providing opportunities to poor women and children

Our strength is drawn from our life experiences and opportunities while residing in more privileged societies outside our countries of origin. We believe that giving should be a voluntary and pleasurable experience

Our objective is to bring joy to the lives of others and impact lasting change and we do this by providing opportunities for self-help; tackling discrimination in all its forms against women and children; sponsoring abandoned and orphaned children; providing access finance poor women who have no access to any type of collateral required by formal finance bodies; providing educational opportunities to young children who would otherwise have not had it;
